This experience is crafted to create instant emotional resets, clearer thinking, and deeper team cohesion—all in just a few hours.

Guided by three experts in Post-Workout Therapy, Sound Nutrition, and Embodied Alignment & Creative Flow.

THREE ELEMENTS. ONE SYSTEM.

Mental reset, targeted sound, and embodied alignment — creating rapid focus, emotional regulation, and peak performance readiness.

1. RESET: Nervous-System Regulation

Evidence-informed reset techniques activate the body's natural recovery response, helping reduce cognitive overload, restore energy, and improve focus during high-demand periods.

2. LISTEN: Frequency-Based Cognitive & Emotional Support

Curated sound frequencies guide the brain and body into optimal states for focus, recovery, and emotional regulation, enhancing clarity and resilience.

3. ALIGN: Posture & Flow

Ergonomic, performance-focused furniture promotes optimal posture, enhances breathing efficiency, reduces tension, and keeps the body alert, relaxed, and fully primed for recovery.

1. KEYNOTE – How Sound, Alignment & Recovery reset Performance

The keynote explores how training environments, materials, sound frequencies, and nervous-system science interact to influence focus, recovery, and emotional regulation under pressure.

2. GUIDED ACTIVATION – Dr Arianna Masotti & Sound by Christin Rauter

After training as a sound engineer, he signed with Universal Island Records, collaborating with industry giants like Mark Ronson, Gorillaz, and Mike Snow to name a few. A decade later, Leon partnered with Christin, and together they began exploring sound and spatial perception, merging science, music, and holistic wellness.

The Sound Nutritionist approach is a unique method of sound creation, where Leon and Christin carefully measure and design sound waves and sonic recipes, tailoring each to the specific needs of the person, project, and collaboration. They craft precise frequencies engineered to deliver transformative experiences, whether for individuals or organizations. This innovative technique ensures that every sound is personalized for maximum impact and effectiveness.

Dr. Arianna Masotti is an HCPC-registered Clinical Psychologist, media expert, and founder of Bloome Wellness and the Post-Workout Therapy (PWT) method — a groundbreaking approach that integrates physical training and psychotherapy to optimize emotional processing within the dopaminergic window following exercise. Her work bridges neuroscience, psychotherapy, and wellness innovation.

She has been featured in international media (Stylist, Women's Health, Marie Claire, Il NewYorkese), attended global conferences (House of Lords, CogX), conducted public speaking events in luxury members clubs and wellness facilities (The Twenty Two, London, The Conduit London, Rowbots London, Flow London, Technogym NYC, Istituto Marangoni London), and coauthored a peer-reviewed academic paper published in the International Journal of Community Music (Intellect Books, 2024). Her professional credentials include registration in Italy and the UK, collaborations with the NHS and Orri Eating Disorder Clinic, Blue tree psychiatric Clinic and academic research at Middlesex University.

Dr. Masotti offers Post-Workout Therapy (PWT) sessions — an innovative blend of psychotherapy and evidence-based coaching designed to harness the brain's dopaminergic window immediately after physical exercise. Each session combines elements of Mindfulness, Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT), Compassion-Focused Therapy (CFT), and Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT) to enhance self-awareness, regulate emotions, and promote sustainable mindset shifts.

The method supports clients in strengthening self-esteem, body image, emotional balance, and career focus, allowing them to translate physical activation into mental clarity and long-term behavioural change. Through this integrated mind-body approach, clients experience measurable improvements in motivation, resilience, and overall wellbeing — making Post-Workout Therapy a transformative step beyond traditional talk therapy.
